

Supporting Information

Biflorin, isolated from the flower buds of Syzygium aromaticum L., suppresses LPS-induced inflammatory mediators via STAT1 inactivation in macrophages and protects mice from endotoxin shock

Figure S1. Scheme of the extraction protocols

